IV. Scope of compulsory participation in educational activities

a) Student participation in seminars is mandatory. Students are required to participate actively, and if they are unprepared, the instructor may mark them absent.

b) If a student misses 3 seminars, their absence is excused without the need for replacement.

c) If a student has 4 or more absences, these absences cannot be made up and for this reason the student will not be able to take the final exam in the current academic year. An absence given for unpreparedness for a seminar is the same as an absence due to non-attendance at a seminar.

V. Conditions under which a student may compensate for non-attendance at seminars:

If a student has a maximum of 3 absences, it is not necessary to make them up. If a student has more than 3 absences, it is not possible to make them up.

VI. Specification of the method of evaluating study results, including specification of the method and conditions for completing retake dates for continuous assessment:

a) The course assessment consists solely of continuous assessment. Continuous assessment consists of two parts: oral presentation in seminars (40 %), and a written exam (60 %). The topics of individual presentations will be agreed upon by students and teachers at the beginning of the course.

VII. Information on alternative options for fulfilling the conditions of the interim assessment, which, however, do not constitute an overall correction deadline for the interim assessment pursuant to Article 13(4) of the Faculty Study Regulations:

Alternative dates for continuous assessment will only be set for students who did not participate in the regular continuous assessment and can prove that they were unable to participate in this form of examination for objective and serious reasons.
